VIII. Discussion: Naming Spaces in Worner

- Doré: Multicultural Student Lounge - upstairs Worner
 - CCSGA funded the remodel, so we get to name it!
 - Naming it after someone at the Ribbon Cutting - TOP SECRET
 - They have done amazing DEI work at CC
 - Vote to let the Butler Center name the space!
 - Vicente: Are they BIPOC?
 - Doré: Yes
 - Al: When is the ribbon cutting ceremony?
 - Doré: Once the space is ready!
 - Vote: Approved - allow Butler Center to name the space - 20 votes
- Doré: Student Lounge in the basement
 - Koray: Is it under construction?
 - Doré: Not yet. Our temporary Full Council is Tutt 201. Butler Gathering Space is for Exec, Office Hours, hang out!
 - Doré: What are the ideas for the name of the space? We talked about CCSGA Student Lounge - but it might sound exclusive. Maybe the motto of Fannie Mae Duncan - led the Cotton Club - one of the first integrated spaces in CO Springs, Black jazz singer, used to own Glass/Lennox House. Naming after her may be a nod to CO Springs

Community. Thinking about naming it the “Everybody Welcome Student Lounge”

- Ben: “Fannie Mae Duncan Student Lounge”
- Vicente: What about an Indigenous name for the student lounge? We are a campus with a progressive mindset, and some issues still go unaddressed. I work with the Elder in residence - her office is in the stairwell.
 - Misbah: Indigenous people would not be allowed on the land or on the campus - inside there are restrictions to who is allowed. If we care about decolonizing space, we should not have Gold Care access. It is not open to Indigenous people, so are we doing something progressive. It will not be strictly NASU space as well.
 - Doré: One of the wealthiest colleges - lounge for hanging out and at a PWI - Indigenous naming feels uncomfy in that way
 - Vicente: as an Indigenous person, I feel like it might be a space to gather. Maybe we need to consult Elder Debbie.
 - Glorie: Maybe to name after an Indigenous staff or alumni or faculty.
 - Misbah: A student name feels better than an Indigenous term or word - feel uncomfortable.
 - Glorie: Indigenous word feels like cultural appropriation.
 - Nova: If we name after an Indigenous people, CC/CCSGA should give back - something structurally grounded
 - Sam: Could open up the space to an Indigenous group in the Springs
 - Al: Reservable space. Community members can access spaces on campus - How would they reserve and have access?
 - Doré: Will discuss in Exec and with Amy Hill - naming, donating, public access to the space.
 - Misbah: In charge of meeting with Elder Debbie about this. Can talk to me about this - Let me know.

- Motion to Table - moved and seconded
 - Approved to table the discussion - 20 votes - approved
