Robson Arena and City for Champions History

The Colorado College campus arena, named for Edward J. Robson, a 1954 CC graduate and former member of the hockey team, is the multi-purpose indoor on-campus competition arena that will also serve as a venue for City for Champions.

The City for Champions initiative also includes an outdoor stadium, in collaboration with the professional Colorado Springs

Community Meeting #4
Open House and Presentation

Community Meeting #4 for the Robson Arena design and planning process takes place:

Saturday, June 29
Open House: 10:30 a.m. – noon
Presentation: 11 a.m. at Cornerstone Arts Center
825 N. Cascade Avenue

Community Meeting #4 includes a presentation and an Open House to view display boards of the revised site plan, as well as plans for the architecture, landscaping, traffic, and parking that have been refined based on public input received over the past several months. The meeting concludes the college's public input phase of the project; however, it is anticipated the city will schedule an additional public meeting as part of the application submittal process.

City of Colorado Springs Downtown Shuttle and Neighborhood Parking Initiatives: In response to public input received during Colorado College's process for Robson Arena design, the City of Colorado Springs has initiated discussions for a Downtown Shuttle System and has scheduled public input sessions for potential changes to parking in neighborhoods surrounding the college. The college has no jurisdiction over public right-of-way so these are City processes. The schedule for the City's neighborhood parking input meetings will be made available at the Robson Arena June 29 Open House.

Switchbacks Soccer Team, a member of the United Soccer League. The stadium is proposed for the south end of downtown Colorado Springs.

JLG Architects Named a 2019 Design Firm of the Year

ENR Mountain States, working with other regional ENR publications and editors across the U.S., has selected its Design Firms of the Year for 2019.

They are Architectural Nexus, Salt Lake City, for the Intermountain area; and JLG Architects, with multiple offices in North and South Dakota, for Colorado, Wyoming and the Dakotas. JLG Architects is the architect for Robson Arena.

Design Firms of the Year are chosen by a vote of the regional ENR editors across the country from a carefully selected group of finalists based on regional revenues, new initiatives, current projects and several other factors. READ MORE
